

FIRST START AT PEACE NOW

Russia And Japan May Yet Be Brought Together And Peace Be Patched Up.

ROOSEVELT THE LEADING FIGURE

Word From Berlin Says American President Has Been Chosen To Arbitrate The Question And Obtain Peace.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Russians are generally celebrating Ascension Day. It is expected the imperial manifesto convoking the projected national assembly will not be issued.

Taft and Roosevelt.
Washington, June 8.—Secretary Taft had a talk with the President this morning regarding the Russo-Japanese situation. He declined to make a statement.

Russian Minister.
Washington, June 8.—Ambassador Jussurand called on the President at nine-thirty this morning. It is believed he has received a dispatch from his government as to the attitude of Russia regarding peace.

Make Advances.
Tokio, June 8.—Oyama reports: "On the morning of June 7 a body of Russians advanced upon Yinyipien men, but were repulsed and fled in confusion northeast. With exception of skirmishes between scouts there are no changes to report."

Special Audience.
St. Petersburg, June 8.—It is reported on good authority that Ambassador Meyer had an audience with the Emperor at Tsarskoel yesterday which was preceded by a family council at which the decision was reached that peace would be entertainable if Japan's conditions are not too onerous.

Is Skeptical.
Berlin, June 8.—The German office is very skeptical at the outcome of the present peace efforts. It is believed the peace rumors are premature and that one more crushing defeat of the Russian land forces is necessary before overtures of peace will be begun.

A New Story.
Vienna, June 8.—The new Free Presse publishes a report received from a banking house in Tokyo saying the Czar has appealed directly to President Roosevelt asking him to mediate for Russia and Japan.

May Bank at indemnity.
It is the size of the indemnity which President Roosevelt now desires to know. That Japan's demand will be large he already knows, but there is reason to believe that he impressed upon Mr. Takahira the necessity for moderation. He has told Mr. Takahira that the encouraging prospect for peace may be useless if Japan's demand is one so large that Russia will prefer to spend the money in efforts to win the war. Estimates of the amount Japan will ask vary. One billion dollars was a figure mentioned after Togo's victory. A European diplomat said he had heard talk of $2,000,000,000. Either of these sums is considered prohibitive.

In sending to the czar an expression of his eagerness to assist peace, negotiations, the President had the support of England, France and Germany, the latter being the most anxious for the war's end.

Offers to Aid Peace.

The understanding of these powers does not constitute a coalition to gain peace at any price. There was no objection to President Roosevelt sending a feeler to St. Petersburg. It can be officially stated that he made no tender of good offices in the sense in which such a tender is known in diplomatic circles. First, through Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador here, the President sent word to Russia that he was anxious to do anything he could do to assist peace. Count Cassini's report of that conversation was conveyed to the czar by Count Lamdorff, Russian minister of foreign affairs. Meantime the President, having observed that reports of his conversation with Count Cassini met with approval, directed Mr. Meyer to seek an audience with the czar. To use the President's own expression, this was done to drive home the effect of Count Cassini's report.

From a sick bed Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister, in response to a summons from the President, arose and proceeded to the White House.

Japanese Envoy Is Reticent.
After a conference lasting half an hour he returned to his legation and sent a cipher dispatch to Tokio. This is expected to bring from Tokio a statement of Japan's peace terms to be transmitted by President Roosevelt to the czar.

This dispatch carries to the Japanese government the first word it has received that Russia is willing to learn Japan's terms.

The situation is too delicate at this moment for me to say anything," he remarked. "When there is something definite, perhaps, I may have something to say. But I do not expect anything definite for some days."

Japan's Terms Are Outlined.
Although silent while awaiting assurances that some neutral power, preferably the United States, had reached a position to place, without comment or prejudice before the czar, Japan's peace terms, the Tokio government has informed President Roosevelt that it did not propose to let slip the fruits of victory as happened at the close of Nippon's winning war with China. From what Mr. Takahira has told President Roosevelt, Japan will make indispensable to peace these concessions from Russia: Control of Korea by Japan. Control of Port Arthur and Dalny by Japan, with right to fortify. Control by Japan of the Manchurian railroad, hitherto controlled by Russia. Payment of an indemnity (figure not fixed or given).

RUSSIAN SHIPS ARE TO BE HELD UNTIL THE WAR ENDS

Admiral Enquist Is Ordered To Comply With The Demands Of The United States.

Manila, June 8.—Rear Admiral Enquist has received the following cable from St. Petersburg:

"Remain at Manila at the disposition of the American government. Effect repairs as much as possible."

"Nicholai."

Gov. Gen. Wright has requested Rear Admiral Train to arrange for the disposition of the Russian warships and their officers and crews.

Russia Makes No Complaint.

Washington, June 8.—The internment of the Russian cruisers which sought refuge at Manila is believed to have occurred at noon Wednesday, though no official confirmation of the fact has reached the navy department. Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has made no complaint to the president or the state department, showing that his government has acquiesced in the position taken by the president. The ships will be dismantled, though while they are in such condition repairs may be made upon them so that when the war is ended they may go to sea at once.

Criticism in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Russian press, notably the Novoe Vremya, and the Russ, the latter frequently reflecting the views of the foreign office, display a great deal of resentment against the United States for enforcing the twenty-four hour's rule in the case of the three Russian cruisers at Manila. The Russ quotes the American neutrality regulations and contends that President Roosevelt, in applying the principle that only injuries received during a storm and not in battle can be repaired in American ports, not only narrows the American regulations, but infringes recognized principles of international law. This paper declares it has official warrant for the statement that representations have been made to Washington on the subject.

Armies Are Busy.

Tokio, June 8.—It is announced at the headquarters of the Imperial army that a detachment of Russian infantry, the strength of which was not mentioned, attacked Machiatun, two miles north of Wei Yen Pao, at an early hour in the morning, but was repulsed.

On the same day a Japanese force which advanced to Shabose, nine miles east of Changtu, dislodged the Russians holding the territory in the vicinity and occupied a neighboring eminence. A portion of the Japanese cavalry drove northward the Russians, who held Chi Chiatzu, fifteen miles north of Kwang Ping, and Machiatun, seven miles east of Chichiatzu, and occupied the surrounding territory.

AMERICAN ARTISTS OPEN PARIS SALON

Canvases Painted by Men of Other Nationalities Will Be Given No Place in It.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Paris, June 8.—The formal inauguration of the American Salon took place today. The gallery is under the management of the League of American Artists which has taken the handsome building formerly occupied by the Duc de Noailles in the Rue St. Honore, near the Tuilleries Garden, for the purpose. Two hundred canvases, exclusively the work of American artists are hung upon the walls of the palace and the exhibition will be a permanent one. The Salon is established for the purpose of providing a means for foreigners to form an idea of American art and to give the artists a means of reaching the public in a more widespread manner than they could by private studio exhibitions where they would be indistinguishable from the works of men of every other nationality.

BRIGHT BROKE THROUGH A BRIDGE

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—A freight-train broke through a bridge west of Barron today. Two brakemen and a fireman were seriously injured and may die. The bridge was weakened by the flood. At Ridge-land, Scott's flouring mill was wrecked. The dam at Prairie farm is gone out. The loss is $50,000. The flood loss near Negaunee is nearly a hundred thousand dollars. The Kingston mills at the Dells are swept away.

SQUADRON ABOUT TO VISIT FRANCE

For Body of John Paul Jones Is Held Back by Sudden Orders Which May Indicate Foreign Complications.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

New York, June 8.—The sailing of the squadron to France to bring home the body of John Paul Jones, which was booked for today, has been indefinitely postponed by orders from the war department. A report is current to the effect that the postponement is due to "grave foreign complications," one of which may be the discovery that Germany has secured a strategic base in the Carribeans.

New York, June 8.—Rear Admiral Sigbee's squadron, consisting of the cruisers Brooklyn, which is his flagship, Chattanooga, Tacoma and Galveston, sailed today for Cherbourg, France to bring home the body of Commodore Paul Jones. At Cherbourg the body will be transferred to the American ships, with civic and military honors. The casket will be taken to Cherbourg by the French government then turned over to the American authorities. After the return to America the body will be buried at Annapolis early in July with elaborate ceremonies. It will be borne on the cruiser Brooklyn. Ex-Ambassador Porter, through whose efforts the body was recovered has completed all plans abroad for the transferring of the body of the famous Commodore to the American squadron.

GRAND RAPIDS FEELS VERY INSECURE NOW

Michigan City Is Having a Hard Time with the Floods Which Threaten Destruction.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 8.—Two hundred men and fifty teams worked all night strengthening the dyke which holds back the water from the west side. The river is rising steadily and the low section in the northern part of the city is being rapidly submerged. Whole families are fleeing for safety. The city market is flooded and railroad bridges are in danger.

IMPORTATION DOES NOT BAR CIGARETTE

Indiana Law May Have Some Bearing Upon the Wisconsin Legislation.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Indianapolis, Ind., June 8.—Judge Leathers today held the anti-cigarette law does not apply in cases where cigarettes are imported into the state, as it would conflict with the interstate commerce act. The defendant was dismissed as the cigarette in his possession was imported from Louisville.

WHOLESALE MEN MAY SELL TO RETAILERS

Dry Goods Association Discusses Proposition of Selling Direct to Merchants.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 8.—A meeting of the National Wholesale Dry Goods Association was opened here today with a large number of dry goods men in attendance. The association will take up principally the report of the executive committee which has been devoting considerable time to the consideration of the subject of selling direct to retailers on the part of commission merchants and manufacturers.

BRYAN'S WIFE AND DAUGHTER ABROAD

Sailed for Germany Today—Will Be Joined by Commoner in September.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 8.—Mrs. William J. Bryan and her daughter Grace sailed for Germany today, for a long trip abroad. They will be joined early in September by Mr. Bryan and the winter will be spent in some part of the Orient. Mr. Bryan is going abroad especially to study the experiments of Continental cities at municipal ownership and the railroad question. He expects to be in politics when he returns.

SUBMARINE SUNK BY EXPLOSIONS

British Boat Destroyed in Maneuvers Off Plymouth This Morning—Twelve of Crew Perish.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Plymouth, England, June 8.—While the submarine "A-5" was maneuvering off this port this morning explosions occurred and the boat sank. Of the eighteen men aboard only four were rescued. Divers are at work on the sunken vessel.

The submarine lies at eight fathoms depth. The first indication of any disaster came when the submarine signalled it was submerged. A signal was received shortly before noon which said: "All right up to the present time." Those saved were standing in the vicinity of the Conning Tower at the time of the disaster and were picked up by a passing trawler. They were Lieut. Gandy, the commander; Sub-Lieut. Murdoch; a petty officer, and a seaman.

BANK WRECKED BY DYNAMITE

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Paris, Ill., June 8.—The Edgar County National bank was wrecked by dynamite early this morning. Two adjoining stores were demolished. A safe containing the funds is intact and the burglars secured nothing.

LOCKOUT WILL BE CONTINUED

Delivery Of Goods To Boycotted Firms Will Call Out The Truck Teamsters.

SHEA STILL THE GREAT OBSTACLE

Conferences Fail To Bring About Peaceful Solution Of The Questions At Stake—Drivers Are Firm.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—Following the failure of the conference of teamsters and employers to agree on peace terms a special meeting of the team-owners was called to consider the question of delivering goods to boycotted firms. Chairman Rend of the team-owners' committee said today he would urge the association to begin immediate deliveries. This means the lockout of eight thousand truck-drivers. President Shea announced this morning the teamsters expected an addition of twenty-two thousand dollars to the strike fund, and were prepared to keep up the fight.

In a conference which showed some of the earmarks of success—up to the time President Shea made his second dramatic entrance—the uselessness of further peace talk was made plain. The gap between employers and strikers was measured and found to be too wide to span.

Shea shattered the proceedings again. He entered the conference ten minutes after it began. The meeting lasted ten minutes longer, while the employers listened to his threats and impossible demands, and then it broke up in confusion. In parting nobody expressed hopes of another try at peace.

Terms Offered by Teamsters.

Following are the terms which the teamsters' committee finally presented to the employers and which were rejected:

1. It is understood that the strike is to be declared off on all express companies and all other employers involved.
 2. No discrimination between the union and non-union men.
 3. All police, deputy sheriffs and armed guards shall be withdrawn immediately. There shall be no interference between union and non-union men leading up to any violation of the law.
 4. Before any new men are employed the former employees to be reinstated, except those who are found guilty of violating the law.
 5. The wages and hours of all drivers shall be the same as they were previous to April 1, 1905.
 6. All employees shall obey orders issued by their employers that do not conflict with the law.
 7. Any difference existing or arising shall be settled by arbitration or conciliation in the future.
- Disappointment to Employers.
The employers promptly answered:

ed that a settlement of such a basis was absolutely out of the question. They said they had expected a fair proposition from the strikers, and they did not hesitate to exhibit their disappointment.

In particular, they raised objections to two conditions named by the teamsters. The proposition, as they interpreted it, called for the maintenance of a boycott against the express companies or the reinstatement of the drivers who had struck against these concerns. Inasmuch as the express companies were not represented in the conference any settlement in which they were concerned could not be entertained by the employers.

A boycott against the express companies, moreover, was declared impossible by the merchants. They argued that such an arrangement would mean nothing more than a reverting to the conditions which existed at the time of the strike against Montgomery Ward & Co.

Shea Vetoes Proposed Changes.

When John V. Farwell, Jr., acting as the chairman of the employers' committee, suggested that some changes be made in the union proposal, President Shea entered. Shea promptly "sat upon" the suggestion.

Although not a member of the committee he promptly took the reins out of the hands of W. J. Gibbons, the chairman, and proceeded to tell the employers how he was going to "whip" the "Employers' association" until it would agree to any terms he might see fit to dictate.

The "chill" of Shea's reception did not deter him. He went on making threats for ten minutes until Levy Mayer arose and informally announced the conference at an end.

Leading the teamsters' committee triumphantly from the room, Shea announced:

"We have presented a proposition to the employers which they have refused to accept. They objected chiefly to our demands that police protection be withdrawn as soon as the strike is called off. That is all."

Predicts Long Struggle.
Later, in a more talkative mood, Shea forecast a long-drawn-out contest lasting many months.

NORWAY READY FOR WHAT EVER MAY FOLLOW BREAK

Hope For Peaceful Solution, But Have Made Preparations For War Also.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Christiania, June 8.—M. Loeveland was appointed minister of foreign affairs by the new government. All the officers of the army and navy took the oath of allegiance today. The Norwegian diplomatic officers at Stockholm were recalled.

Norway is prepared to take up arms, if need be, to defend her newly declared independence from Sweden. At a second session of the storthing a proclamation to the people of Norway was adopted, citing in detail the events which led up to the act of secession.

"The storthing hopes that the Norwegian people will succeed in living in peace and on good terms with all, and not the least with the Swedish people, to whom we are linked by so many natural ties."

"The storthing is sure that the people will join with it and with the government in maintaining the full independence of Norway and with firmness and dignified tranquility submit to the necessary sacrifices; and it is further sure that all subjects will fully respect all ordinances and prescriptions from the government."

"All officials, civil and military, must in every respect yield that obedience which the government has the right to claim according to the authority transferred to it by the storthing in the name of the people of Norway."

Split Over Consular Service.
The act of secession came as the storthing assembled.

climax to the long-standing controversy between the two kingdoms over Norway's demand for a separate consular service—a demand which has always been resisted by Sweden.

Early in May the storthing forced a crisis by passing a bill providing for a separate consular system for Norway. This bill was submitted to King Oscar on May 26, after he had resumed the throne after three months of rest, during which Crown Prince Gustave acted as regent.

On May 28 King Oscar returned the separate consular bill to the Norwegian Ministry without his approval. The king's refusal was based upon the contention that the action contemplated must receive the sanction of the mixed council. The Norwegian council of state thereupon resigned, and the king refused to accept their resignation, as in view of the state of public opinion it was impossible to form a new government. Demonstrations were held throughout the country in endorsing the action of the council of state.

Plans for the formal act of secession were carefully made, in order that the new provisional government would be inaugurated without disorder or even friction.

It became generally known throughout the city that the independence of Norway would be declared by the storthing Wednesday, and there was an immense concourse of people around parliament house when the storthing assembled.

THE SAVING OF DAIRY CATTLE

DR. RUSSELL OF AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE ISSUES BULLETIN.

VENTILATION OF STABLES

Cleanliness is Also Necessary to Prevent the Spread of Tuberculosis.

How to stop the ravages of tuberculosis in the herds of dairy cattle and how to prevent the transmission of the great plague from cattle to human beings who use dairy products and eat beef is the subject of an instructive and interesting bulletin just issued by the Wisconsin livestock sanitary board. The prevalence of the disease in the Wisconsin herds and the danger of transmission to people is considered a warrant of alarm by Dr. H. L. Russell, bacteriologist of the college of agriculture, and the bulletin is of his authorship. 3,000 Cattle Killed

More than 3,000 cattle from the dairy herds of this state have been slaughtered within a year, because it has been discovered that they were affected with tuberculosis. Many of these animals were in herds from which milk was being furnished to people living in cities. Many others were from herds the milk from which was being sold to creameries and cheese factories. The owners of a considerable number of these animals were affected. While there is no direct statement in the bulletin as to the certainty of transmitting tuberculosis through the milk of cows having diseased udders, it is evident from the tone of the bulletin from beginning to end, that this is looked upon by Dr. Russell as the great danger. Cities have suffered from the scarring discoveries that dairy herds which were supplying many cities with milk had been found to be affected with tuberculosis and that the animals had been killed by the state veterinarian because of the infection.

Dairyman's License

Two preventives are urged by Dr. Russell in his bulletin. One is that cities require dairymen to take out a license before they are allowed to sell milk or dairy products, and that the city should require before granting the license that all herds should be subjected to the tuberculin test. The other preventive is that the dairyman be required to provide clean and well-ventilated stables for the cattle. The investigations conducted by the board, and which are discussed in the bulletin show that the herds housed in poorly ventilated barns have suffered most from that disease. The bulletin reports the recent extensive outbreaks of tuberculosis among cattle in the state and states that the worse condition was found in the southern part of the state where examination was made of a herd that consisted of seventy-two animals, many of which were fresh in milk, as the product was to supply a Swiss cheese factory.

Shocking Revelations

The bulletin says: The condition of the stock revealed by the tuberculin test was shocking. Of the seventy-two animals tested sixty-nine reacted, as is shown in the following record herewith appended. Only one animal, a yearling bull and a young calf escaped the disease. "The post-mortem findings revealed many cases of generalized tuberculosis, some of which were in a most aggravated form. In a number of cases the udders showed well-marked physical signs of disease.

"The stable in which this entire herd was kept, with about a dozen young calves, from a few days to three or four weeks old, was located in a stone basement in which there was absolutely no provision for ventilation or adequate illumination. A little light entered in through five or six tightly closed sash windows of three 8x10-inch panes of glass to each window. Even some of these so-called windows were boarded up. The interior of the stable was so dark that one could scarcely see to read ordinary newspaper print in the cow stable unless the doors were left open.

Air and Cleanliness

Absolutely no attempt was made to ventilate the stable. The result was that during the night when the place was closed, the hot, stifling odor from animals made the place almost unbearable. Added to these general unsanitary surroundings was the fact that the manure on the floor of the stable was laid over a foot in depth, and the reader can easily see how potent the environment must have been in the matter of predisposing the systems of the animals to the successful attack of the tubercle bacillus. Such conditions as these cannot produce the disease in the first place, because they cannot give rise to the casual germ producing the disease, but if once the disease germ is introduced, as it generally is by buying an animal affected in the early but unrecognized stages, the influence of such unsanitary surroundings can only hasten its spread from animal to animal.

Should Test Herds

"Such cases as these might be multiplied indefinitely, but they would

No man who is engaged in the business of stock raising, whether for general or dairy purposes, can afford to leave his herd untested. Even if he ignores entirely the public health aspect of the question and regards the question purely from an economic point of view, every farmer should have his herd tested to ascertain its present condition. Such conditions as have been presented are by no means so unusual that the lessons should be neglected. Of the seventy herds examined by the state livestock sanitary board for the years 1903 and 1904, forty-nine were found affected."

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING.

The New York Globe and Commercial Advertiser is paying special attention to news of the public schools, thus increasing its circulation among the teachers and children. It has been publishing a series of articles on the "fads" taught in the schools, with symposiums from readers of the Globe. The "fads" consist of music, physical culture, etc., and it is interesting to read the opinions of those who approve and oppose the methods of the New York Board of Education regarding such instruction. The Globe has also been running a voting contest for the twelve most popular pieces of music, which proved interesting and instructive in that it shows that the public after all appreciates the well-known airs from great operas better than the transient melodies of the day.

The Los Angeles Times claims the distinction of sending out the largest Sunday edition of any newspaper in the United States. The Sunday Times regularly contains from one hundred and twelve to one hundred and twenty pages, with a handsome eight-page comic supplement and fashion supplements. The Times prides itself on the exclusion of "trash and cheap sensational stories which are the principal features of so many Sunday papers."

The Philadelphia North American deserves credit for much of the victory recently scored against the "ring" in that city, whose connection with the gas steal proved one of the most sensational events in the history of the Quaker City. The North American followed its exposure of the plans of the company seeking the city lease with pledges of $5,000,000 toward a syndicate to stop the steal and helped in the fight until Mayor Weaver won. Naturally this has helped the North American in "getting circulation" as well as increasing its influence in the community.

An important newspaper consolidation is pending in Cleveland, Ohio. It involves, the "Leader, the News," the Herald and the Sunday World. The company talking over the properties is headed by Charles Otis, Jr., of the Cleveland brokerage firm of Otis & Hough, and with him are associated a number of local capitalists and various local interests. It is unofficially announced that the management of the new company will fall to Joseph Medill Patterson, formerly editor of the Chicago Tribune.

The St. Louis Mo. Star, the evening republican paper has been sold to P. J. Christie, formerly of the Chronicle. Sterling P. Edmunds will be the new editor and it has not been decided whether the politics of the daily will be changed.

OPPORTUNITY

June 23-30, July 1-2 agents of the Pennsylvania Short Lines will sell tickets to Asbury Park, N. J., at very low rates. Passengers also have the privilege of visiting Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, and New York without additional cost. A postal addressed to Geo. R. Thompson, T. P. A. No. 87, Michigan St., Milwaukee, will bring full details.

BUILDING NOTES

C. D. Womath of Harmony is building an expensive addition to his rural residence.

The exterior work on the St. Peter's English Lutheran church edifice at the corner of South Jackson and Center streets is now progressing. The remodeling work of the interior has not yet been commenced.

The work of the architect has been about completed for the year now. The season for planning new dwellings or remodeling work has come to an end and when the present work is finished there will probably be but few buildings planned for erection this year. Several who had previous figures on erecting residences this summer have for various reasons allowed the spring to pass without commencing the work and will not build until next year. This will naturally make the summer a light one for the contractors unless the repair work continues throughout the warm months. It is one of the quietest seasons in view of the fact that the adjoining territories are experiencing a building boom, that Janesville has had in many years.

Labor Notes

The Colonial Agents-General in London have been given authority to issue certificates of exemption under the Immigration Restriction Act.

A national demonstration in favor of the British Unemployed bill is now being organized by James Kelp Harvie, independent member of parliament, and other labor leaders.

The French government employs 17,348 people in its state tobacco factories. The great majority are women.

The leaders of the workmen's organization at Lodz, Russian Poland, have issued a proclamation urging their followers to return to work and not heed the propaganda of agitators, who have brought them to beggary.

The fight between the master builders and the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, of Pittsburgh, Pa., which began February 1, when the builders locked out their workmen, has been practically adjusted.

The strike of the 14,000 agricultural laborers in Porto Rico has ended, according to a cablegram received by President Compro, of the American Federation of Labor from Santiago Iglesias, the organizer of the association. The strikers secured an advance in pay of 30 cents a day and nine hours.

BELOIT SHUT OUT BY OSHKOSH TEAM

Small Gallery of Spectators Witnessed Contest at Yost's Park Yesterday Afternoon.

Beloit's baseball team was shut out in the second game with Oshkosh, played at Yost's Park yesterday, the final score being Oshkosh 8, Beloit 0. The fine work of Beebe, the Oshkosh pitcher who was recruited from Illinois University's famous team, was the feature of the contest. He not only pitched a fast game but stopped two hot liners, did other work within the shortstop's province, and made a safe hit in the second inning which permitted him to circle the bases and bring in the first run for his team. Three more runs were scored by the visitors in the last half of the third. Spolette of Beloit got to first in the opening of the fourth inning but was put out at second on a short punt. With two men on bases Beebe made a clever catch and threw the third man out at first. Less than a hundred spectators witnessed the game and twenty-five of these were from Janesville. The third and last game of the series is in progress at Yost's this afternoon. The story of yesterday's game by innings is as follows:

Oshkosh.....0 0 1 2 1 0 0 3 1—12 0
Beloit.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 1 2
Batteries—Beebe and Doan; Oshkosh and Smith.

Green Bay.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 5 2
Batteries—Struck and Connors; Dodge and Dodge.

Wausau 4, Freeport 3
Wausau, Wis., June 8.—Wausau took the first game of the series from Freeport by a score of 4 to 3 Wednesday. Both teams played good ball, the errors being due to a rough diamond, badly cut up by the circus on Saturday. Attendance, 300. Score:

R. H. E.
Freeport.....0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0—3 10 2
Wausau.....2 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—4 10 2
Batteries—Schneiberg and Carnell; Gaspar and O'Brien.

LEGISLATURE PLANS TO FINISH WORKING

There is Still Much To Be Done Before They Can Adjourn for Good.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., June 8.—Leading members of the legislature profess confidence that the business of the session will be finished Saturday and that since the adjournment can be reached June 14. There is much doubt whether the last spasm can be reached before a week from Saturday.

The Commission

The rate commission bill can scarcely reach the governor before Friday night or Saturday and he will immediately appoint the commissioners and send them to the senate for confirmation. The latest and perhaps best guess as to the personnel of the commission is Halford Erickson, the present commissioner of labor and industrial statistics; R. M. Bashford or John Barnes, who were attorneys for the administration in the republican factional litigation, and John R. Commons, professor of political and social science at the University of Wisconsin.

Other Measures

Among the bills remaining, which will be the subject of controversies, are the mortgage taxation measure, the bill to elect delegates to national conventions by the primary election, the "physical connection" telephone bill, anti-secret lobby measure and the reconsideration of the co-employe bill.

What is left of the democracy of Wisconsin will entertain in honor of Col. William J. Bryan, twice the presidential candidate, of the parties allied against the republicans. The occasion will be the appearance in Madison of the distinguished Nebraskan, July 28. He comes there to speak at the Monrovia assembly, and the opportunity of the democracy is party in Wisconsin to tender him a reception and dinner. The failure of Col. William F. Vilas to appear in the matter is remarked upon.

Plans to this end have been quietly progressing for several weeks, the moving spirits being prominent Madison democrats, and the formal announcement was made yesterday, in the form of a resolution signed by all but two of the democratic members of the legislature. It is understood that these two members were favorable to the enterprise but could not join in signing the announcement, being absent from the city.

Comment around the statehouse relative to the banquet involved numerous suggestions that deep democratic political significance was carried by this movement, but nothing substantiated of this was learned from the signers of the resolution, who declared that it was only to be an occasion of democratic felicity and an enjoyable social occasion with the famous leader of the party as the guest of honor.

It is assured that Col. Bryan will accept the invitation to grace the function with his presence. The desire of the movers in the affair was communicated to him and his consent to have the plans proceed has been obtained, in a letter which came to Madison this week. It is understood that the principal address at the dinner will be by the chief guest, and that there will be a number of other speakers. Expectation is already developing that the words of Col. Bryan will take the form of an address of guidance to the democratic party of the nation and that it may have large influence.

AMERICAN ACTRESS' OBLIGATIONS PAID

Mrs. Brown Potter Will Again Appear Before a London Audi-ence.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

London, June 8.—Mrs. Brown Potter, the American actress who has been so much in the public eye of late because of her alleged bankruptcy, will appear with Gilbert Hare tonight at the Coliseum Hall in the second act of "I Pagliacci." It is reported that Mrs. Potter's obligations have been paid off by funds received from New York and supposedly from her Stillman connections, the daughter of Mrs. Potter having married a son of the famous banker.

“What Energy weaves by chant whose enterprise is intermittent creates a big day’s business by energetic advertising

him” again.

WHERE HIGHER EDUCATION FAILS

“The experience of Professor Benjamin D. Woodward of Columbia seems to prove that, far as we have advanced in useful knowledge during recent years, the training of our thinkers is still deficient in some respects, or, at least, in one,” says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

“He read a short time ago in his favorite newspaper an advertisement
of a pair of horses, harness and trap,
which cost the owner $1,475 less than a year ago, and which would be ‘sold to the right party at a great sacrifice.’ Professor Woodward regarded himself as the ‘right party,’
and such he proved to be. Calling at the address given, he met a gentleman who told him that the owner of the equipment had become ill and was therefore compelled to seek a softer climate. The horses were harnessed, and proved as far as the professor could see, to be a splendid team. He gave his check for $600
and drove the team away.”

“A day or two later he set out for a spin over the country roads. Then came the sad awakening. One of the horses was found to be stone blind, while the other was stiff, sore and decorated with ringbones. The pair would probably have brought $30 at auction if there had been any professional horse traders present, for Professor Woodward’s team was of the kind that could be rapidly improved for exhibition purposes by those who understand the horse business.”

“The gentleman who palmed off this pair of invalids on the professor has been arrested, and he may be punished, and this is doubtful, and even if it were not, the main question
would not be affected.”

“Our universities may not at present be so situated financially that they can afford to establish chairs of horse trading, but it would require very little additional expenditure to provide an occasional lecture for those students whose education would be complete were it not for their ignorance of the horse trader’s art.”

“If there is not enough tainted or untainted money in sight to establish chairs of horse trading, there ought to be enough to provide for lectures that would lead those who are versed in all the other sciences to engage horse traders to do their horse trading.”

“This would help bridge the chasm.
It would serve to protect members of the faculties as well as graduates
until such time as our great seats
of learning could teach their students how to tell a sound horse from one that has two feet in the glue factory.”

The term “higher education” is largely a misnomer, when applied to many practical questions of larger importance than a horse trade.

It does not follow that because a man supports a college title, that he is educated. He may possess a knowledge of books, and be so full of theories that there is no room in his head for anything else, and still be an ignoramus.

He may know all about Shakespeare, and the long list of dead heroes who contributed to the world’s activities back in the dead centuries,
and possess but little knowledge of the characters who are prominent in the drama today.

Some years ago, when Debbs was serving out his sentence in the Woodstock jail for inciting the Chicago riot, a local clergyman, who had mastered several languages, and was familiar with old time celebrities,
was asked what he thought of the arch conspirator. He was confused and replied, “Debbs, Debbs, let me see, I don’t think I ever heard of him,” and he never had.

The well educated man of today
is the man who has mastered his calling, and yet who is broad enough to get out of his environment, and take a comprehensive view of his surroundings.

The pace of the age is too fast
for ruts, and the man who gets into them, and follows them persistently,
is always the man with a limited horizon, whatever may have been his educational advantages.

the notion that the diploma is the passport to finally, so far as knowledge is concerned.

The college man, especially if he becomes a teacher or writer, abro-gates to himself authority on every topic which he attempts to handle.

He knows more about railroads
than the men who own and operate them. He can outline the policy for a state or nation better than magistrates or legislative bodies, and questions of taxation and justice are mere pastimes to be disposed of before breakfast.

This criticism may seem a little
severe, but the most casual reading of magazine articles and theoretically inspired editorials will convince the most skeptical that practical knowledge is the one thing lacking.

The nation just now is in the throes of reform. Socialism in both mild and violent form is being taught
and encouraged as never before.
Property rights are lightly regarded and confiscation in one form or another is endorsed.

The ignorant masses, and the so-called educational classes have joined hands in a general onslaught, and what the final outcome will be, no man can determine. The colleges are lawsonized and Tarbellized, while a large class of people give every evidence of being hypnotized.

The country needs level headed educated men more than at any time

in its history, men who combine with acquired knowledge the rare gift of common sense. There may be some abuses which need correcting,
but destruction is a poor remedy.

GERMAN JOURNALISTIC ENTER- PRISE.

A German editor has hit upon a new idea in practical journalism.
He is mindful of the utility of his paper for making parcels, and especially for trying up the popular sausage. So he addresses his feminine patrons in these terms: “You have often complained to us, dear readers, and especially dear housewives, that our paper smells of printer’s ink, and is, therefore unsuitable for carrying butter, sausages and fresh bread. Eager to meet your wishes, dear friends and household fairies, we have decided to publish twice a week an issue which will be printed only on one side, so that the other will be available for those domestic uses. And in order that you shall lose no reading matter, these particular numbers will be double the ordinary size.”—London Chronicle.

The assembly should take notice that the 17-year locusts are about to open a hostile campaign in Rock county. A little legislation along the line would evidence a good disposition at least without embarrassing the locust.

Malato, one of the anarchists who recently attempted the life of King Alfonso, is defiant, and says that he approves of the propaganda. He has too many sympathizers in this country.

local paper one night and notified
the office that they didn’t care anything about the paper, but the hired girl needed it for the pantry shelves.

Russia was third on the list of

She has now dropped to seventh place. The United States, ranks fourth with a tonnage of 316,822.

The “Medical bill” was knocked out by the senate, and the doctors will have to be satisfied to take their grievances to court the same as other people.

The Chicago strike will be settled

PRESS COMMENT.

Atchison Globe: After a man gets along in years he can’t tell whether a girl means it when she smiles, or is only joshing him.

Evening Wisconsin: Dowle can have a “high time” in Paris with the fund of $200,000 which it is said he proposes to raise for a campaign in the French capital.

Racine Journal: That model citizen who didn’t smoke, drink or be sporting acts, has again been heard from. This time he stole $1,700 from a Kansas City bank.

Milwaukee News: The report that seventeen-year locusts have made their appearance in Rock county
comes in time to permit the passing of a law to abate ‘em.

Eau Claire Leader: How old are you? Are you white or black? Married or happy? Wear false teeth or a hoop skirt? Get ready to tell it all to the census man.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: Nearly $5, 000,000 of Milwaukee bank deposits
have gone into hiding since the Biglow defalcation was exposed, and gentlemanly burglars may soon begin to rejoice in a revival of prosperity.

Oshkosh Northwestern: American surgeons are naturally surprised at the statement of a Berlin surgeon
that they use the knife too much.
There are still quite a number of people in this country who have not been carved.

Superior Telegram: Don’t worry about race suicide. China with all her people is not as well to do as the United States with one-fifth as many.
Density of population never has been a help to civilization. Neither has dearth of population. Always the principal thing is quality not quantity.

Kansas City Star: It is told of a central Kansas editor, whose paper has adopted “fonetic” spelling, that he recently received the following protest from an old subscriber: “I have tuk your paper for seven years,
but if you kant spell any better than
you have been doin for the las to months you may jest stopit.”

Chicago Record-Herald: In the opinion of the New York state insurance inspector Alexander is too old and Hyde is too young to be at the head of the Equitable. Nobody will be likely to arise at this time
and deny that some good, able-bodied,
hard-headed, well-balanced, far-seeing person with the vigor of youth, the wisdom of age and the courage of well-rounded manhood is needed by the Equitable Society.

Baltimore American: Initiation
cotton from pine wood is, according to the Scientific American, the latest industrial innovation, and it is said to be a very good imitation of cotton, too. Whisky from sawdust, silk from cobwebs, butter from cocoanuts, bread flour from dried bananas and beefsteak from the tenderloin of porpoise—but isn’t this twentieth-century civilization ringing in some pretty curious specialties?

Appleton Post: The great standpatter in this country is Mr. Dietz of Thornapple creek, northwestern Wisconsin. He continues to hold his position by a dam site against a wealthy lumber company, the state and federal courts and all the armed forces sent to dislodge and capture him dead or alive. The monopolies that are using the tariff as a shelter
and which are opposed to any reduction of the schedules ought to engage Mr. Dietz in their service at any price.

Exchange: I am convinced that long driving is a natural gift, say
Walter J. Travis in the June Country Life in America. Of course it can be cultivated and developed to a certain extent, but all the art in the world cannot entirely overcome physicians deficiencies. Driving may be said to represent the physical side of golf, and short approaches and putting—especially putting—the mental. Of the two I think that the latter is the more susceptible of improvement.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The story to the effect that Colombia is to build a rival isthmian canal, just to spite the United States, will not excite serious concern in this country, especially since it adds that President Reyes has rejected all offers of foreign capital as he wants
it to be strictly a home enterprise.
This tale serves to remind one of that recently threatened invasion of the United States, by Colombian troops.

Pittsburg Dispatch: Gas price discussion in the West has contributed a fact that is interesting in more ways than one. Investigation has developed that Sheffield, the British Pittsburg, gets its gas at the rate of from 28 to 36 cents, the lower rate being for use in gas engines, where it furnishes power at the cost of 6 mills per horse power per hour. The fact, of course, impresses first as to the evidence of cheapness. The price of gas coal in Sheffield is rather more than in most of our cities from the Mississippi to the seaboard. Yet the gas is furnished at one-third to one-quarter the usual price in this country. And the company makes a good profit at these rates—presumably on unwatred stock.

Milwaukee Journal: Science never may be able to discover and analyze the soul, but in a remarkable case
in New York the soul has been awakened in a human body by simple surgery. Jack Hany, although 16 years old and well developed physically, was until two months ago mental as using the tariff as a shelter memory nor reasoning power. His parents had years ago resigned themselves to the cruel belief that Jack was a hopeless imbecile. The other day a physician discovered that Jack’s brain was not diseased, but that it was not properly connected with the spinal cord, and all that would be required to restore arrested development would be to effect the necessary
union of cells. By osteopathic manipulation this is being slowly accomplished and the light of reason is dawning upon the life long confined in the dark. The boy is rapidly learning the alphabet, finds his way
about alone and takes keen delight in the unfolding of the world that was dead to him. The mind and soul born 16 years after the body are becoming natural. The field for benefit to mankind in this direction is unlimited. Millions of demented and deficient little children suffer bondage in darkness from which science
may yet find the way to set them
free.

Governor Marcus Morton’s Rents.
The late governor Marcus A. Morton, whose old home in Taunton is now the Morton hospital, was as careless in his dress as he was punctual
in collecting his rents. It was no uncommon sight to see him walking the streets without stockings, the expanse between the bottom of his trouser legs and his shoes revealing that fact to the public.

One day as the governor passed down the street a flutter of white beneath his coat-tails gave mute testimony of the need of repairs in which his trousers stood. In a group of idlers was a wag who was also one of the governor’s tenants.

“Great horn spoons!” he shouted,
as the governor passed, “I never knew governor Morton let his rents
get so far behind!”—Boston Herald.

HE WOULD TAKE NO CHANCE

Determined That No Rabbit Was Going to Give Him Bad Luck
If He Knew It.

At one of the hotels the other night a traveling man well known for his connection with the sale of divers wares to the merchants of North Texas gave his views on and experiences with the superstitions of the colored race, relates the Galveston Tribune.

It appears that up in that neighborhood east of Greenville he had occasion
to hire a buggy to go across the country,
and with the buggy there was thrown in
by the livery stable a negro, who, the traveling man says, was about the color of anthracite. The two traveled across the muddy roads for miles upon miles,
and all was going well when suddenly
the negro rose in the buggy.

“Look a-dah!” he shouted.
The drummer looked barely in time
to see an ordinary cotton-tail rabbit cross the road like a streak of gray. The negro prepared to get out.

“What are you doing?” demanded the drummer, catching at the lines as they fell. The negro got out. Then he carefully turned over one of his ragged pockets inside out, backed up to the place which the cotton tail had crossed and walked across the imaginary line backward. Then he climbed into the buggy again.

“Dah,” he said, “Ah!” gwine let no
rabbit gib me no bad luck dis trip. No, sah!”

SHOWED HIM SHE COULD.

Hold-Up Man Finds That His Intended Victim Can Drive
Several Nails.

Though she had to walk two or three blocks alone after getting off the car
the young woman was not afraid.

But as she passed a dark alley a man
stepped out of it, relates the Chicago Tribune.
“Sorry to trouble you, miss,” he said,
“but I’m needing just the amount of cash and other valuables you’ve got about you. Hand ‘em over promptly, and there’ll be no fuss. If you don’t, I’ll have to be a little rough.”

“I haven’t anything of value about me,” she said. “And if I had I wouldn’t give it to you. You’d better let me alone.”

“Ha!” laughed the footpad. “You’ll do something desperate, will you? Be reasonable, young woman. What chance have you got against a man? Why, you can’t even drive a nail, let alone fight
a desperate villain like me. I’ll give you just three sec—”

“Can’t drive a nail, can’t I?” she said
shrilly. “I’ll show you!”

With a sudden movement she drove ten sharp nails into his face, good and hard, and before he had recovered from the surprise and confusion of the attack
she was 100 yards away.

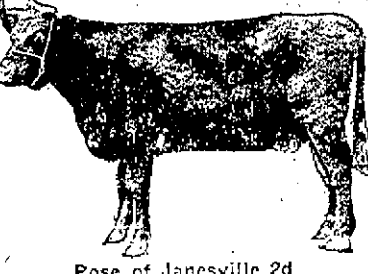

WIFE BEATER FEELS THE LASH

First Penalty Inflicted Under Oregon’s
New State Law.

Portland, Ore., June 8.—Charles McGinty, a wife beater, received twentylashes on the bare back Wednesday, being the first sufferer under the new state law. The lashing was performed by the county jailer under the direction of the sheriff and a physician. The whip was a braided black-snake made of rawhide, with four lashes. McGinty after receiving the sentence was hustled to jail, where he was stripped to the waist and his manacled hands tied to a door in the fall corridor high above his head.
Blood was drawn at the fourth blow.
McGinty writhed and groaned and strained at the manacles binding his wrists.

WILL HAVE TIME TO THINK MUCH

IRA MOYER, THE CONFESSED BIG-AMIST, GOES TO PRISON.

SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY

Man Who Married Janesville Woman Will Have Ample Time for Reflection.

Ira S. Moyer, former student at a local school, porter at the Myers Hotel, member of the Y. M. C. A., and husband of Cecelia Goodman Moyer of this city, had been sent to the Iowa state prison for a term of two years and five months for bigamy. The Moyer case, which in many respects resembled the famous Hoch case except in the fact that Moyer did not kill his wives and secure their life insurance, came into prominence last February when he was arrested in Colorado Springs, where he was living with his second wife, Lelia McCarthy, whom he had married Christmas Day at Keokuk, Iowa. Moyer at first pleaded not guilty to the charge of bigamy but in the midst of his trial changed his plea to guilty and was yesterday given a penitentiary sentence.

A Clever Game
Ira Moyer came to Janesville from Indiana. He was apparently a very devout churchman and religious to the core. He attended church, neither smoked or drank, appeared a model young man. On the second of last August he was married to Miss Cecelia Goodman at Union Center, Juneau county, by Father Procha, after a special dispensation had been granted allowing Miss Goodman to marry a Protestant. It is alleged that in seven weeks he tired of his new wife and sought other fields. According to report he moved away from Janesville while his wife was home on a visit, taking with him thirty-five dollars in money, silverware, household goods and even personal effects of his bride. These were all since recovered through the efforts of Mrs. Moyer's attorney, who recovered them in the house Moyer and his second wife occupied in Colorado Springs. It is said that while living in Janesville Moyer appeared crazy on the subject of life insurance and tried to compel his wife to take out a policy.

Wanted Riches
Moyer wanted riches. He seemed insane upon this subject and planned and schemed every way to gain them. It is said that his quarrel with his Janesville wife was due to the fact she refused to turn over to him a trust sum of a thousand dollars held by her mother for her. Even while married here it is said that Moyer corresponded with two girls, one living in Bremen, Indiana, and the other in Alhambra, Illinois. Letters written to these girls, both of whom he professed a willingness to marry, were filled with hints aimed to find out how much money they had. In Alhambra the young lady in question comes of a very estimable farmer's family and she became indignant over Moyer's inquiries and rebuked him for his greed for wealth. In the trial in Iowa the names of these girls were not made public and this portion of his life was kept secret even by the prosecuting attorney who sought to convict the prisoner for bigamy and succeeded.

Western Marriage
After leaving Janesville Moyer went west to Iowa. He had long been in correspondence with Lelia McCarthy, aged eighteen, whose acquaintance he had made through a matrimonial agency, and had visited her in 1902. He evidently did not waste any time in his courtship and was married to her on Christmas day, 1904. He then took his bride to Colorado Springs where with part of the stuff stolen from the Janesville Mrs. Moyer he set up housekeeping and where he was arrested by officers on complaint of relatives of his second wife. Moyer denied his marriage to Mrs. Cecelia Goodman Moyer and stated she had nothing to prove her statement. He then visited Janesville while out on bail and attempted a reconciliation without success, it is said. While in Janesville he greeted his former acquaintances and expressed his opinion freely that he was being persecuted. In fact, his relatives in Indiana wrote a Janesville attorney to this effect.

Pleaded Guilty
Moyer returned to Iowa for his trial and despite his former assertions that he was innocent, was the victim of a plot to ruin him, pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy and after several weeks in jail was yesterday sentenced to two years and five months in state prison. His Janesville wife did not appear in court against him, but the testimony of Lelia McCarthy, who also sued for a divorce on the same grounds as his conviction, was enough to satisfy Judge Chin and Moyer will have time for reflection that the road to riches does not lie through matrimonial seas.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Charged With Theft: C. P. Felts of Beloit, who was arrested on the charge of stealing brass-trimmings off an engine, will have his trial in municipal court on June 9.

Forty Years Ago: Forty years ago Janesville celebrated the Fourth of July in a martial style. There are many old residents of the city who remember the parade, fireworks and speeches.

Will Be Done: So many persons have asked, relative to the condition of the streets on the Fourth of July it is interesting to note that the contractors hope to have Milwaukee street nearly all completed up to the hill and promise that Main street will be ready for use in two weeks from today.

THINK THEY HAVE CAPTURED THIEVES

Oshkosh Police Believe They Have the Bostwick Thieves in Jail.

Oshkosh police firmly believe that they have one of the burglars who robbed Bostwicks' store a year ago and also had a hand in the silk robberies at Beloit, Madison and Eau Claire recently. After a desperate fight a man who gave his name as Frank Powers of Chicago was caught yesterday morning while robbing the Frank Plummer store in that city. His companion escaped. A description of the man who escaped has been sent and it is thought he will be captured. Two hundred dollars' worth of silks were recovered when Powers was caught.

SUBSCRIPTION FOR SUMMER CONCERTS

By Imperial Band Is Being Solicited, and Thus Far Leader Kneff Has Met with Generous Response

Business and professional men and those interested in having open-air concerts by the Imperial Band this summer are receiving personal calls from Leader Al Kneff and invitations to place their signatures on a subscription list. Two hundred and fifty dollars is the amount desired and the popularity of these summer entertainments in the past should make the effort to raise the money an easy one. Thus far Mr. Kneff has met with sufficient success and encouragement to warrant him in expecting that the list will be filled out and the necessary fund raised.

NO KIN OF THE DEAD STRANGER

Who Fell on Streets Yesterday Morning Have Been Heard From—The Body Must Be Interred Tomorrow.

No relatives or friends of Fred Meyers, the stranger who died suddenly on the streets of this city yesterday morning, have been heard from and present indications are that the body will have to be buried by the county in the Potter's field tomorrow. District Attorney Newhouse has written to the employment bureau of Asping & Sweet, Chicago, asking for information but had received no reply this morning.

CELEBRATION IS MAKING HEADWAY

THE CIRCUS PARADE COMMITTEE MEETS THIS EVENING.

EVERYTHING IS GOING AHEAD

Different Committees Are Busy with Their Own Respective Work.

"Col." Geo. McKee, Janesville, Wis. Hongkong, China, June 8.—Brother Annanias has just told me of your celebration. Want to accept with pleasure. Have just returned from Tibet, where if I had known of your celebration would have secured several good specimens of the Lama for the parade. However, which have never before been seen in Janesville. Better call your committee together and tell them I will be there. By the way I hear Janesville people are investing in Platteville mines; why not secure a genuine party of Platteville miners for the parade?

MUNCHHAUSEN NONESUCH.
Calls Committee
In response to this appeal from L. L. Colonel Nonesuch, "Col." McKee has called a meeting of the Nonesuch Brothers' parade committee for this evening at Joe Murray's harness-shop on North Main street. This committee is composed of the following gentlemen, all of whom Mr. McKee is anxious to have present tonight: H. H. Bliss, L. L. Leslie, Charles Bostwick, Frank Mount, J. L. Fletcher, Charles Gage, Dr. E. D. Roberts, William McGivcar, D. W. Watt, Joseph Murray, George Paris, E. J. Smith, W. W. Watt, R. H. Van Cleave, and M. R. Ostrom.

Much to Be Done
There still remains an endless amount of work for the different committees to do before the Fourth really arrives. The music committee is hard at it and expects to land some of the best music ever heard in Janesville on any celebration. In fact, they are swamped with applications for music from bands who have heard of the good time Janesville always has at its celebrations and want to be here to take part.

Fun Galore
The lighting committee is still very mysterious and promise something startling. The amusement committee also has had several close consultations and the results promise to be amazing. Street vaudeville is always acceptable, but this year's committee mean to outdo their efforts of last year and give the visitors and residents a taste of something of the fine art and the results promise to be the best ever seen in this city. There promises to be no lack of amusement on the Fourth and the strangers who wander in and do not have a good time can go away satisfied that there is no spot on earth where they would be able to enjoy themselves. Janesville will be in gala attire and the celebration will be one long to be remembered.

The Finance Committee
The finance committee wish to impress upon the citizens of Janesville the necessity of contributing liberally for the coming celebration. Some five hundred dollars more is needed and if it is not raised all the present plans will fall through. Be sure and be in when the committee calls and give liberally.

ROCK COUNTY'S PRISON QUOTA

For Past Five Months Has Numbered Thirteen—An Unusually Large Total.

Thirteen have been sent to state's prison, one to the reformatory at Green Bay, one to the reform school at Waushara, and two to the Girls' Industrial school in Milwaukee, by the Janesville courts, since January 1. The list is as follows: John S. Brown, 1 yr. for burglary, committed Feb. 23; Fred Herman, one year in reformatory for passing forged check, committed Feb. 24; James Randall, one year and a half for stealing a watch, March 4; Joseph Martin and John Snider, two years each for larceny from the person, March 16; Elmer Moffett, 1 yr. and 1 month for breaking into a freight-car, April 7; Loren Moffett, one year for same crime, April 7; Lyman Bessey and George Rawleigh, 1 yr. and 6 months each for breaking into Robinson's brewery, April 12; Charles Jackson, a colored man from Beloit, 1 year for breaking into a stockyard shanty, April 25; Axel Dahlquist, 3 yrs. and 6 months for Evansville burglary, May 2; George Weston, two years for stealing a horse and buggy, May 13; James Evans, 3 yrs. and 3 months for Evansville burglary, May 22. All of the above commitments were made in municipal court and in addition Judge Field sent the Minard and Monroe girls to the Milwaukee Industrial school. Judge Dunwiddie sent Johnnie Condon to the reform school at Waushara and sentenced Thomas Mulcairns to Waupun for a short term for inciting to perjury. The total for five months is an unusually large one for Janesville.

DEATH ENDED LONG TERM IN THE COUNTY ASYLUM

Mrs. Annie Skinner Passed Away Yesterday After Sixteen Years of Mental Derangement.

Death ended a long period of confinement in the Rock county asylum for Mrs. Annie Skinner yesterday. She had been mentally deranged for sixteen years. Deceased was a member of a prominent family in Newark and was about forty years of age. The funeral services were held at the Baptist church in the town of Newark this afternoon.

McKinley's Friend in Trouble.

BELOIT FACULTY'S CHANGE OF HEART

Charles S. Buck, Who Was Compelled to Leave College for Getting Married, Invited to Return.

In the list of candidates named by the literary board of control of Beloit College for the managing editorship of the publication "The Round Table" the name of Charles S. Buck of Janesville appears. It is recalled that Mr. Buck was not allowed to finish with his class in 1904 because he was married during the summer, between his junior and senior years. The action of the college authorities aroused widespread comment at the time. It is now understood that the faculty have invited Mr. Buck to return and complete his course next year and that he will avail himself of the opportunity. Since the Beloit college incident Mr. and Mrs. Buck have resided in Janesville. The former was for a time editor of The Independent.

CAMERON DAM IS STILL IN PLACE

According to Report From Ladysmith—Correspondent Says John Dietz Is Not a Coward.

From Ladysmith, Wis., comes a denial of the report that the Cameron dam on the Thorapple has gone out, leaving John Dietz the unquestioned master of the situation. Ray Page, tender of the Shaw dam, is authority for this statement. The alleged remark of William Appleby of this county that John F. Dietz is a coward is hotly resented by the correspondent who returns the information regarding the dam. "Dietz's friends here at Ladysmith," he says, "know that he has plenty of courage and a good reputation, and besides that the sympathy of the people." It is doubtful if Mr. Appleby ever said that Dietz was a coward, though the report that the man used his little children as a shield for bullets would indicate that he is quite a strategist.

MUNICIPAL COURT BILL IS RETURNED

Governor Sends Beloit's Pet Measure Back to the Legislature for Repairs

Beloit's municipal court bill is traveling a rocky road at Madison. Advice from that city are to the effect that the governor has sent the measure back to the legislature for corrections. The original bill has been pared and shaven with amendments until it no longer bears any resemblance to its former self. And after all this the state executive has found some minor flaws in the instrument that need remedying before he can conscientiously affix his signature. The original draft was the work of Rock county lawyers of high standing and the barbering it has received is apt to be construed as a reflection on their abilities unless some other explanation is forthcoming.

FRED BROWN IS NOT INJURED SERIOUSLY

Northwestern Conductor From Janesville, Erroneously Reported to Have Limb Cut Off.

Dispatches to the Milwaukee morning papers stated that Fred Brown, a conductor on the North-Western road, fell under the cars at Oakfield last night and lost a limb, the wheels of the train passing over his leg. Mr. Brown is a resident of Janesville and is in the service of the Northern Wisconsin division of the road, running between Janesville and Fond du Lac. The only injury which he received was a slight scratch on the knee, and was caused by the accidental explosion of a torpedo signal. It occurred about eleven o'clock last evening at Oakfield, but Mr. Brown was able to complete his trip and arrived here today.

THREE LOCAL MEN HURT IN WATERTOWN WRECK

Charles Hanson Seriously Injured, Harry Miller and John Connell But Slightly.

In the wreck three miles north of Watertown yesterday on the North-Western road, which was caused by the heavy rains softening the road-bed and resulting in the derailing of ten cars, Charles Hanson of this city was quite seriously injured, being caught under a tipping car which he was engaged in helping unload. He was taken to the emergency hospital in Watertown. Two other men who make this city their home were slightly hurt. They are Harry Miller and John Connell. All were employed on the section. The two latter returned to Janesville yesterday.

Interment was at Center.

SENATE SPENDS THE MORNING DEBATING THE STOUT-BILL

The Dunn Pocket Ballot May Be Concurred in by the Assembly.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., June 8, 2:30 p. m.—The Senate spent the entire morning debating the Stout bill to keep the saloons away from the schools. A recess was taken until after dinner. The assembly advanced the bill to make the Milwaukee Free Press the official state paper by a vote of 54 to 20. It also advanced the bill to place the clerk of the supreme court on a salary instead of rich fees. A bill to provide for the appointment of women as an additional member of the state board of control on charitable and penal institutions was defeated by a vote of 38 to 30. The Dunn pocket ballot bill was advanced and is likely to be concurred in, having already passed the senate. It provides for the use of the "card and envelope" system of voting instead of the present sheet ballot system.

NOTORIOUS PAIR OF BELOITERS

Mr. and Mrs. James Follan Will Be Guests at County Jail for Three Weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Follan of Beloit are guests at the county jail—the former for twenty days and the latter for twenty-five. They were sentenced by Judge Booth yesterday for disturbing the residents about Vernon avenue and Eighth street, in the Line City. When Chief Schelbel visited their home he was met at the door by Mrs. Follan, who made a lunge at him with a long file she held in her hand. Thinking it was a knife, he quickly caught her arm and wrenched the weapon from her. She then sicked the dog on the intruders, but Officer Chamberlain put the animal to flight. The search for "Jimmie" proved fruitless but later on he was encountered on the street and taken in charge amidst yells and volleys of profanity that shocked staid old Beloit. In the afternoon on a second complaint of neighbors another call was made for Mrs. Follan. Upon seeing the policeman she screamed right out in the college town: "Phwat has ye dun wid me Jimmie?" and when she had been lured to the courtroom on the plea that she was needed as a witness and the real purpose of the officers discovered to her in an invitation to accompany them to jail, she raged at Chief Schelbel: "Not for yeer O'licked ye yesterday and O'licked ye agin. Ye dassent deny O'licked ye face, and ye ain't old enough to take me to jail." And such people are going to live with us in Janesville, nearly a month.

THREATEN TO CLOSE THE MINES

Illinois Operators Want Men to Stand Cost of Shot-firing.

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—The operators claim the shot-firers' bill increases the cost of mining, and have asked the miners to make some provision for the payment of the shot-firers out of their own funds. The miners refuse and insist upon the law being observed in full. The operators have threatened to close all mines in the state, and some radical action is looked for at the coming meeting. The Illinois Mine Operators' association has issued a call for a meeting of all operators in the association, to be held in Springfield June 20. The meeting is for the purpose of considering the shot-firers question. The operators recently requested the miners to adhere to the existing contract, which provides that there shall be no increase in the cost of mining during the present year.

PLAN NEW LOBSTER FISHERY

Canadians Will Try an Experiment in Waters of Pacific.

Halifax, N. S., June 8.—The Canadian government has decided to make an attempt to establish the lobster fishery on the Pacific coast. This industry in Canada is confined to eastern waters and all previous experiments on the Pacific have proved failures. A carload of live lobsters will be shipped from this city to Vancouver, B. C. They will be placed in the waters of the Pacific and experts will observe what becomes of them and a determined effort will be made to ascertain if this fish can thrive. A large number of oysters also will be shipped for similar experimental purposes.

Washout in Wyoming.

Sheridan, Wyo., June 8.—Thirty-eight miles of track on the Burlington road between this city and Cody have been washed out by a sudden rise in the Big Goose and other streams. Ten cars of a freight train near Coburn were washed into a ditch.

MR. JAMES CHIMPAN-ZEE'S PICTURE

"Have you heard the news?" asked Joe Baboon of Jim Chimpanzee. "No, what is it?" inquired Jim. "Why, a photographer has come to town."

"And what is a photographer?" asked Jim.

"Will he take my picture?" inquired Jim.

"Of course he will," answered Joe. "But what on earth do you want your picture taken for?"

"To send to my sweetheart," said Jim, blushing to the end of his tail.

HE LOOKED PLEASANT.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Joe. "You will frighten the poor girl out of her wits."

But Jim wanted the picture, and the very next day he went down to the photographer's place.

"Now, sit real still and look pleasant," said the photographer.

Jim sat as still as he could and looked as pleasant as he ever did in his life. The photographer touched the button, and the picture was made.

The first mail carried one of the pictures to Jim's girl.

"She will be pleased with that, I know," declared Jim. "My, I do look handsome in that picture!"

Well, in a few days Mr. Chimpanzee got a letter from his sweetheart, and this is the letter:

Mr. James Chimpanzee, 711 Zulu Jungle, Zambaza Land.

Dear Sir—I never knew what a perfect fright you were until I got your photograph. It will be impossible for me to marry you. Papa says please keep away from the house. Sincerely,

CATHERINE ORANG-OUTANG.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Innocent Elephant

Jumbo was so innocent, so gullible and unsuspecting that if you told him his tail was on in front he would get mixed and be tempted to believe it.

He was also absentminded.

"Why," said the monkey, "the other day I told him that he was a fire engine and that his trunk was the hose, and he never knew the difference and squirted water all over the place till the keeper came and pounded him."

"Let's have some fun with him now," suggested the parrot.

"By the way," said Jumbo absentmindedly, "who is that peculiar looking fellow with the straw sticking out of his chin, by the post there?"

"Why, that's a 'Hey, Rubie,'" said the parrot.

"A 'Hey, Rubie'?" asked Jumbo.

"Yes, a 'Hey, Rubie.' If you'd been in the circus round you'd have known what a 'Hey, Rubie' is."

"Is it good to eat?" queried the innocent one.

"Most assuredly," said the monkey.

AROUND THE TENT HE TORE.

"He ought to be good," thought Jumbo. "If he's boy."

He looked longingly at the jay with the grassy whiskers.

"When no one is looking I will eat him," he said.

By and by the chance came. Jumbo stole up close to the farmer, who was looking intently at the lady bareback rider. Reaching out his long trunk, he wound it about the "Hey, Rubie," threw back his big head, opened his little mouth and dropped the astonished "Rubie" into it.

But, oh, how different it seemed from the hay he had been used to! It kicked and struggled; it hurt his jaws; it choked him. He felt as the whale must when he had Jonah inside. He must get rid of it at once.

Around the tent he tore, looking for a way out, while the feet of his novel dinner dangled from his lips, and the people scrambled to get out of the way. After a deal of striving he broke through the tent and managed to cough his unwilling meal out on the green sod.

He never heard the end of his mistake. All of which shows, Bill, that there are different meanings to the same word.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SCORES GAMBLING IN COTTON

Speaker at Congress in England Attacks Speculation in Futures.

Manchester, June 8.—The international cotton congress discussed the question of speculation in cotton. Baron Carloni of Italy protested against the practice of buying cotton for delivery at distant dates, alleging that it gave gamblers an opportunity to bring disaster to the trade. Continental nations, he pointed out, conducted their business without recourse to this practice. Other delegates agreed with the baron, but the congress was not unanimous on the subject.

BURGLARS MURDER AN OFFICER

Two Thieves, Barred in House, Defy Columbus Police.

Columbus, Ohio, June 8.—Barricaded in the residence of Horace L. Chapman, former Democratic nominee for governor of Ohio, two or more burglars defied the police for a half hour and then, seeing that they could no longer sustain their position, attempted to bore through the guard of police which surrounded the house. In the battle which followed a number of shots were exchanged and Dan Davis, a policeman, was killed.

WORTH A THOUGHT.

This Statement Will Interest Scores of Janesville Readers.

The facts given below are worth a perusal by all who are anxious about their physical condition or are similarly situated to this resident of Beloit. It is a local occurrence and can be thoroughly investigated.

Mr. J. E. Flint, of 876 Bluff street Beloit, Miller at the Blodgett Mfg. Co. says: "I had pain in my back for about two years. Although I was not laid up and unable to work, still the dull tired aching while at work was disagreeable and inconvenient. Standing and walking about aggravated it, or if I sat in one position any length of time my back became very stiff. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills in one of our papers and as they were especially recommended for such complaints I got a box. They soon took the pain and soreness out of my back and kidneys. They reached the spot at once."

FARM GARDEN

WHEN THE KNIFE IS SHARP.

Pruning in March Is Customary From Motives of Convenience.

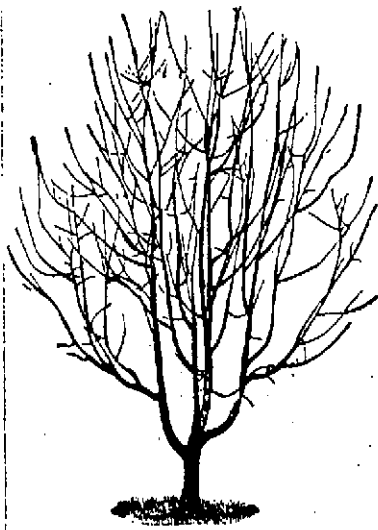

The best time to prune is between the middle of May and the middle of June, when the trees are growing thriftily, as the wounds will heal over quicker if done at that time, but as this is a very busy season of the year the customary practice is to prune during the month of March, when satisfactory results are obtained. By pinching off young growth, which is not required, in summer, labor will be saved in pruning. It is much better to prune at any time of the year than to neglect it altogether, as it is not a matter of great consequence what month it is done in. The important tools are a sharp pruning knife or shears.

Modern orchardists have come to look upon the low headed apple tree as more desirable than those headed high. A head which is two and a half to three feet from the ground is at present considered more desirable than one which is six feet or more from the ground. The latter height was formerly frequently used. In forming the head care should be taken to have the framework branches disposed at different heights along the body of the tree, say from three to six inches apart, and distributed as evenly as possible around the body as a central axis—that is, when viewed from above the picture presented would be that of a wheel, the hub being the central axis of the tree and the framework branches the spokes of the wheel.

When the trees begin to grow thriftily many new branches will be formed, and it is the work of the pruner to remove all those which are not necessary and to cut back others. The top of the tree should be kept open to admit air and sunlight, but pruning should be so carefully done that there will be no bare limbs. All branches which are growing across and through the top should be cut out. If two branches touch one another one of them should be removed. If a branch on one side of the tree has outgrown the other it should be headed back so as to make the tree symmetrical, cutting it off just above a bud which is on the side that it is desired to have the new growth. If when the trees are young they are treated in this way every year comparatively little work will have to be done at one time.

Japanese Cane.

One item we have learned will be of untold benefit to sections just above the cane belt. Many farmers higher up have attempted to raise ribbon cane and have been compelled to quit on account of loss from our early frost. The new variety, the Japanese cane, is a true cane, smaller than the ribbon, but suckers more and will grow on poor land. It is fine for sirup and is also splendid feed for cattle of all kinds. It will stand 15 degrees more cold than ribbon cane. We think any farmer in middle Georgia, Alabama or South Carolina would do well to try some and learn of its adaptability. One gentleman told us he grew twenty-three stalks from a single eye.—Southern Cultivator.

Right Conditions.

Enthusiastic beginners in gardening should beware of the common mistake of starting outdoor operations too soon. Do not try to work the soil when it is too wet nor, on the other hand, delay the operation till it is too dry. Taken just right, the soil will readily second your efforts to put it into a nice mellow condition.

The interrupted train service, materially interfered with the opening session of the Winnebago Baptist association at Green Bay on Tuesday. The sessions Wednesday were held however, as planned. The Rev. A. Legrand was elected moderator.

A BROAD IDEA.

Formulated by the King of Italy, but American in Origin.

The king of Italy has put forth a project which appears ideal if not utopian from the sentimental and contractual standpoint, yet excellent from an economical and technical point of view could it be sincerely and thoroughly carried out. At the instance of King Victor Emmanuel the Italian government has addressed a note to the powers proposing that a conference be held in Rome next May for the purpose of considering a scheme for establishing an international chamber of agriculture.

The king explained his proposal in a letter to the head of the Italian government, frankly admitting that the original idea had been introduced to him by a citizen of the United States. Briefly put, the king proposes, therefore, that the different leading nations should combine to form an international institution absolutely unpolitical in its aims which would consider the conditions of agriculture in the countries of the world and which would periodically notify the quantity and quality of the crops in hand so as to facilitate the production of such crops and make their distribution less costly and more rapid.

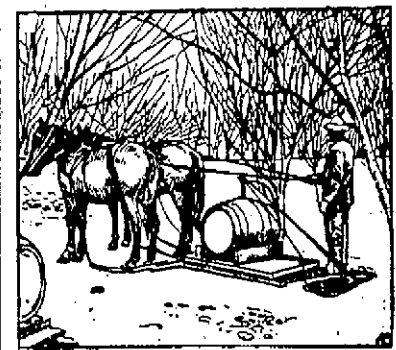

Other points would be the supplying of information as to the demand and supply of agricultural labor in different parts of the world, the promotion of agreements necessary for united defense against diseases of plants and domestic animals and the encouragement of societies for rural co-operation, for agricultural insurances and for agrarian credit.

Naturally such an institution would not only tend to consolidate the agricultural classes, but would yield a powerful influence for peace, for by promoting a knowledge of other countries and by extending the business relations of the various nations with each other war would daily become a more hateful and impossible thing than ever.

A LITTLE NOTE OF REACTION

Good Horticulturists Are Again Talking Up Oil Spraying.

With the present spraying season there seems to come a little note of reaction from the lime, salt and sulphur wash toward the use of oil for the San Jose scale. Not but that the former is still popularly used, but some very good authorities are again urging the excellence of crude petroleum. Dr. John B. Smith of New Jersey, speaking of experiments in the state, during 1901, says a few growers used it with excellent success, and it is the only material which has not been more or less of a disappointment. As the result of observation made, the undiluted oil, a little warmed and put on in a fine spray, is advised on pear trees in preference to any other material. Good results on other fruit trees have been obtained with 25 per cent mechanical mixtures.

As good an authority as Mr. T. Groher of Ohio places himself on record thus:

"When I consider all the disadvantages of the lime-sulphur treatment—the nastiness and corrosive nature of the compound, the necessity of the utmost care to prevent clogging of the nozzles and to protect the men who handle it and the horses, too—I come to the conclusion that I must stick to my old and tried remedy for the scale, the clear petroleum spray, which, when properly applied and at the proper time makes a clean sweep so far as the scale is concerned with a minimum of labor and inconvenience and at reasonable expense."

The lime, salt and sulphur mixture has the advantage of controlling peach leaf curl, and to some extent at least the apple scab. It seems to act also as a stimulant to clean and thrifty growth in the tree. If only one spraying can be made, apply in March or early April and cover thoroughly. The plum has been injured if sprayed too early in winter.

THE GARDEN KEYBOARD

Plant beet: it will pay.

Work some good manure well into the soil of the asparagus bed before the crowns start.

Do all that you do as well as you can.

Clean culture is the sure road to success with onions.

Any shrub and tree planting that remains to be done may be finished up in March.

Remove the winter cover and prune the roses as soon as hard freezing weather is past.

The cutting of grafts before grafting is no good in cherries. The best way is to cut and then go and graft them right away. This is one fruit grower's notion.

Do good to yourself and give a show to that neglected but very delicate eatable, salsify, or oyster plant, in your garden this year. It takes a long season, so seed must be sown early—not too thick for the plants do not stand crowding. Thin to four or five inches between plants.

W. Willard of Chicago delivered the commencement address at Rochester academy at Burlington. A class of eleven was graduated.

STATE NOTES

A special election will be held on June 21 in Burlington to vote whether to bond the city for a $12,000 municipal electric lighting plant.

Charging that his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Schulke, kept John Gehring of the town of Freedom in a stupor during the last five weeks of his life, Appleton relatives have instituted suit to set aside the will and make an equal disposition of the estate.

Invitations have been received in Kenosha for the marriage of Alice Stilwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Watson Stilwell of Yonkers, N. Y., and Lieut. Roy Holderness of Kenosha, next Wednesday.

Lieut. Holderness was graduated from West Point a year ago. Five per cent of the population of Little Chute, a village a few miles north of Appleton, are scheduled to be married within the next five days. It is believed that Outagamie county will carry off the banner of the state in point of weddings this month, twenty-two having taken place during the last ten days.

The opening matinee of the season of the Green Bay Riding and Driving club will be given on Thursday afternoon of next week on the last day of the Eagles' state convention, at Green Bay. The Eagles have offered $100 in prizes for the best turnout in the parade to take place before the races. The convention opens Tuesday.

And Meets an Old Sweetheart.

The most embarrassing moment of a young husband's life is when he makes his first appearance on a public street in the capacity of chauffeur of a baby mobile.—Denver Evening Post.
